

Supply chain maturity: The new currency for health system transformation

V. Professor in Strategy and Entrepreneurship & Academic Chair, World Health Innovation Network (WIN) Anne Snowdon, Odette School of Business

10. oktober 2018

patienten først OUH

Supply chain maturity: The new currency for health system transformation

- Patient safety, Quality of care delivery, and Impact on health system cost and value. Each of them essential when managing a modern hospital today.
- Learn more about the role of clinician leadership, strategies that create the clinical infrastructure tools to strengthen patient safety and quality and how we can automate some of the care processes using digital technologies.
- We welcome Mrs. Anne Snowdon, Professor in Strategy and Entrepreneurship & Academic Chair, World Health Innovation Network (WIN) from Odette School of Business in Toronto Canada.
- She has compared and contrasted across three global health systems.
- Look forward to hear more – so please welcome Professor Snowdon

Twitter
#ouhtalks

Tak for i dag!

Efterårsferie uge 42 – ingen OUH TALKS